TO THE PUBLIC.

Since I have undertaken the management of the Opera for the season now about to commence, war has brooken out, which has tonfold increased the risk of that at all times difficult enterprise, and, in the opinion of many, pechadese when the provided some encouragement will be held out to no.

Lam now actively engaged in making extensive preparations to begin the regular season in January, when some ad-this attempt, and am confident of being able to fulfil my obligations, provided some encouragement will be held out to me.

I am now actively engaged in making extensive preparations to begin the regular season in January, when some additional artists will arrive from Europe, and from the Italian opera company now performing in Mexico, with Max Maretzek. By that time some decisive battless must have occurred, and the public mind feel more inclined to enjoy rational amusements than during the acst exciting months.

To enable me to do so I have determined to give two performances in each city, the proceeds of which will be employed by me in carrying on the winter season.

I am happy to state that from present appearances my appeal will meet with an entities set response. Stockholders, the most fashrounds families, some of the most indiscutation, the great body of professors of music, and the entire press, without a single exception have assured me of their heartest of their kindly intentions.

I appeal now to the great public, who owe to me the satisfaction of having heard Sontag, Piccolomini, Angri, Lagrange, Gazzaniga, Adelina Patti, Laborde, Formes, Thaberg, Sivori, Henri Herz, Vieuxtemps and various other musical celebrities, and to whom I have given the sphendid spectacles of "Juive," the "Vespers," the "Haguenots," &c.

Generosity and fiberality form one of the leading traits of the rational character, and I have no doubt that I shall meet with extensive support, if not in acknowledgement or long and faithful services, to avoid the bad megal effect the closing of the opera for an entire season would produce in the South and Europe.
